

BUILDING DESIGNER CERTIFICATION TRAINING

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF BUILDING DESIGN CALIFORNIA SOCIETY

March 7, 2010
9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Professional credibility is paramount to those who specialize in residential and building design. Join the California Society of the American Institute of Building Design for a full-day workshop created specifically for design professionals seeking additional credentialing.

Members and non-members of AIBD will benefit by attending this event focused on qualifying and preparing for the only national building designer certification exam endorsed by AIBD.

Steve Mickley, CPBD, the AIBD national executive director and former NCBDC Examiner, will direct you on how to prepare for a comprehensive and practical exam.

He will provide valuable information on topics, such as:

- Architectural history
- Structural formulas
- Building systems
- Construction specifications
- Hand sketching techniques
- Business contracts
- And more

The two-day building designer certification exam IS NOT a part of this program. To apply to become a CPBD, contact NCBDC by writing information@ncbdc.com or calling 1-888-726-7659.

We have sent you registration information for the training included in your 50th Annual Conference Registration packet. But, you may register here as well.
Cost/fee is $100.00 due by 2/2/2010
